

FRANK CALLAHAN KEPT EXPENDITURES DOWN

This is the second of a series of articles on the administration of Frank Callahan as mayor of East Chicago, the four years prior to Mr. McCormick's occupancy of the office.—EDITOR.

The expenditures of the city increased rapidly during the McCormick administration. By the end of the year 1918, the expenditures of the city had reached $673,000.00 or considerably more than doubled the expenditures of the last year of the Callahan administration. The expenditures of the city for the year 1922, will reach the sum of approximately $850,000.00. This is nearly three times the amount of expenditures for the year 1917, the last year of the Callahan administration. Defense has been made of the expenditures during the McCormick administration on the ground that the increase was due largely on account of the improvement of city parks. This is not true. The total amount expended by the city during the four years of the McCormick administration will be about $400,000 or average about $100,000 for each year.

Tax levies follow rather than precede expenditures. It is true that the tax levy is made before the money is collected and expended but the tax levy is always based on the amount which is to be expended but the tax levy is always based on the amount which is to be expended whether it be just and proper or otherwise.

Burns' Revised Statutes of 1914, Section 6858, sets out the manner by which the tax levies and annual budgets are made. It reads as follows:

"It shall be the duty of each executive department before the commencement of each fiscal year, to submit to the joint meeting of the heads of the departments and of the various boards, herein before provided for in Section 50, Clause 15, an estimate of the amount of money required for the respective departments for the ensuing fiscal year, stating with as great particularity as possible each item thereof.

The controller shall at the same time submit an itemized statement or estimate of city expenditures for other purposes, for the ensuing year, over-

ROCHESTER WOMAN TELLS EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Lehman Had Suffered Ten Years From Indigestion — In Splendid Health Now.

I suffered for ten years from nervous indigestion. I had no appetite and always felt miserable. I was in a serious condition of health. Then, for this woman was getting old, my food didn't seem to interest me at all and I only weighed 85 pounds.

After taking Twin City News Notes and not gaining, even though there is such a relief, I went to a Tandem Refreshment Room and it surprised me—Mrs. Aspinwall, who I did not know, offered to speak to Mrs. Tandy. She said, "Mrs. Tandy, you are a good doctor. I have plenty of strength and feel better than I have in years. I wouldn't take the time and dollars for what Tandy paid for me."

The above statement was made by Mrs. Alice Lehman, Bryant Hotel, Rochester, N. Y.
